

SAFEGUARDING POLICY.

1. Purpose

Safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and adults at risk from abuse or neglect.

This policy defines how Greenhead Village Hall operates to safeguard children, young people, and adults at risk of abuse or neglect.

We have a duty of care and are committed to the protection and safety of everyone who enters our premises including children, young people and adults at risk involved as visitors and/or as participants in all activities and events. We also have a duty to safeguard and support our trustees, volunteers, and staff.

2. Definitions

Children and young people are defined as those persons aged under 18 years old. This policy will apply to all staff, contractors and volunteers and will be used to support their work.

Safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children is defined as:

- protecting children from maltreatment
- preventing impairment of children's health and development
- ensuring that children grow up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care
- taking action to enable all children to have the best outcomes.

Adult at risk of abuse or neglect For the purposes of this policy, adult at risk refers to someone over 18 years old who, according to Section 42 of the Care Act 2014:

- has care and support needs
- Is experiencing, or is at risk of, abuse or neglect
- as a result of their care and support needs is unable to protect himself or herself against the abuse or neglect or the risk of it.

If someone has care and support needs but is not currently receiving care or support from a health or care service, they may still be an adult at risk.

Persons affected

- All trustees, volunteers, and staff.
- All those attending any activity or service that is being delivered from the village hall charity property.
- All visitors and contractors.

3. Policy principles

There can be no excuses for not taking all reasonable action to protect children and adults at risk from abuse or neglect. All citizens of the United Kingdom have their rights enshrined within the Human Rights Act 1998. People who are eligible to receive health and community care services may be additionally vulnerable to the violation of these rights by reason of disability, impairment, age, or illness.

Greenhead Village Hall charity has a zero-tolerance approach to abuse. Greenhead Village Hall charity recognises that under the Care Act 2014, it has a duty for the care and protection of adults who are at risk of abuse.

It also recognises its responsibilities for the safety and care of children under the Children Act 1989 and 2004.

Greenhead Village Hall charity is committed to promoting well-being, harm prevention and to responding effectively if concerns are raised.

Greenhead Village Hall charity is aware of the work of their local safeguarding Board/Partnership and other support organisations on the development and implementation of procedures for the protection of children and adults at risk. The policy is about stopping abuse where it is happening and preventing abuse where there is a risk that it may occur.

Greenhead Village Hall Committee is committed to the following principles:

- The welfare of the child, young person or adult at risk is paramount.
- All children, young people and adults at risk have the right to protection from abuse.
- Safeguarding is everyone's responsibility: for services to be effective each professional and organisation should play their full part; and
- All suspicions and allegations of abuse must be properly reported to the relevant internal and external authorities and dealt with swiftly and appropriately.

The nominated Child Protection and Vulnerable Adult representative will have responsibility for reporting concerns that arise, as a matter of urgency, to the local authority Child Protection and Vulnerable Adult lead agency. Guide to Appendices

Appendix A – Forms and signs of abuse (children)

This appendix gives guidance on how to recognise the signs of abuse in children. If you are not in regular contact with children or young people some of these signs will be harder to detect. This guidance will probably be most useful as a reminder for those who have had some basic or introductory child protection training.

Appendix B – Forms and signs of abuse (vulnerable adults)

Appendix C - Guidelines for dealing with abuse or signs of abuse

This gives a list of do's and don'ts on what to do if someone reports, or you suspect abuse towards a child.

Appendix A: Forms and signs of abuse

Ways to recognise child abuse and neglect¹

Physical abuse: Physical abuse may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer feigns the symptoms of, or deliberately causes ill health to, a child whom they are looking after. A person might do this because they enjoy or need the attention they get through having a sick child. Physical abuse can be caused through omission or the failure to act to protect.

Visible Signs:

- injuries to any part of the body
- children who find it painful to walk, sit down, to move their jaws or are in some other kind of pain
- injuries which are not typical of the bumps and scrapes associated with children's activities
- the regular occurrence of unexplained injuries
- the child who is frequently injured, where even apparently reasonable explanations are given

Behavioural Signs:

- 1* furtive, secretive behaviour
- 2* uncharacteristic aggression or withdrawn behaviour
- 3* compulsive eating or sudden loss of appetite
- 4* the child who suddenly becomes ill co-ordinated
- 5* the child who finds it difficult to stay awake
- 6* the child who is repeatedly absent

What to listen for:

- 7* listen for confused or conflicting explanations of how the injuries were sustained
- 8* evaluate carefully what is said and preferably document it ad verbatim
- 9* consider if the explanation is in keeping with the nature, age and site of injury

Consider:

- 10* what do you know about the family?
- 11* is there a history of known or suspected abuse?
- 12* has the family been under stress recently?
- 13* do you have concerns about the family?

Emotional abuse:

Emotional abuse is the persistent emotional ill treatment of a child such as to cause severe and persistent adverse effects on the child's emotional development. It may involve making a child feel or believe that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. The recognition of emotional abuse is based on observations over time of the quality of relationships between parent/carer and the child.

Watch for parent/carer behaviours:

- 14* poor attachment relationship with the child
- 15* unresponsive or neglectful behaviour towards child's emotional or psychological needs
- 16* persistent negative comments about the child

¹Taken from Recognising Child Abuse: a handbook for those who have the care of children and young people. East Sussex County Council. Approved by the East Sussex Area Child Protection Committee, 11 September 2001.

- 17* inappropriate or inconsistent developmental expectations of the child
- 18* parental problems that supersede the needs of the child
- 19* dysfunctional family relationships including domestic violence

Watch for child behaviours:

- emotional indicators such as low self esteem, unhappiness, fear, distress, anxiety
- behavioural indicators such as attention seeking, withdrawn, insecure
- physical indicators such as failure to thrive/faltering growth, delay in achieving developmental, cognitive or educational milestones

Sexual abuse: Sexual abuse involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities, whether or not the child is aware of, or consents to, what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including penetrative acts such as rape, buggery or oral sex or non-penetrative acts such as fondling. Sexual abuse may also include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, pornographic material or watching sexual activities, or encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways. Boys and girls can be sexually abused by males and/or females, by adults and by other young people. This includes people from all different walks of life.

There may be no recognisable signs of sexual abuse but the following indicators may be signs that a child is or has been sexually abused:

Physical signs:

- 20* signs of blood or other discharge on the child's under clothes
- 21* awkwardness in walking or sitting down
- 22* tummy pains
- 23* regression into enuresis (bed or clothes wetting)
- 24* tiredness

Behavioural signs:

- extreme variations in behaviour (e.g. anxiety, aggression, or withdrawal)
- sexually provocative or inappropriate behaviour, or knowledge that is incompatible with the child's age and understanding
- drawings and/or written work which are sexually explicit (indirect disclosure)
- direct disclosure; it is important to recognise that children have neither the experience nor the understanding to be able to make up stories about sexual assault.

Neglect: Neglect is the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs. It may involve a parent or carer failing to provide adequate food, shelter and clothing; failing to protect a child from physical harm or danger; or the failure to ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment. It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs.

Indicators of neglect are recognisable in the child, in the parent/carers' behaviours and within the home environment.

Physical signs:

- 25* abnormal growth including failure to thrive
- 26* underweight or obesity
- 27* recurrent infection
- 28* unkempt dirty appearance
- 29* smelly
- 30* inadequate/unwashed clothes
- 31* hunger
- 32* listlessness

Behavioural signs:

- 33* attachment disorders
- 34* indiscriminate friendliness
- 35* poor social relationships
- 36* poor concentration
- 37* developmental delays
- 38* low self esteem

Environmental signs:

- 39* insufficient food, heating and ventilation in the home
- 40* risk from animals in the household
- 41* inappropriate sleeping arrangements and inadequate bedding
- 42* dangerous or hazardous environment

Appendix B: Categories and predisposing factors of adult abuse

Predisposing factors: Some examples of factors which may place people at risk of abuse are listed below. Adult abuse often occurs when a vulnerable adult is faced with a set of circumstances where there is potential for harm. The presence of one, or more, of these factors does not automatically imply that abuse will follow, but may increase the likelihood:

The Individual:

- poor communication or communication difficulties
- history of falls and/or minor injuries
- physical and/or emotional dependence on others
- mental health needs, especially moderate or severe dementia
- rejection of help
- aggression
- self-injurious behaviour
- history of repeatedly making allegations of abuse
- high level dependency on others to meet their care needs
- substance misuse
- previous history of violent relationships within the family or social networks

The Environment:

- overcrowding
- poor or insecure living conditions
- geographical isolation
- poor management and/or high staff turnover

Relationships (in particular with carers):

- unequal power relationships
- increased dependency of vulnerable adult
- multiple dependency within the family or social networks
- multigenerational family structure where conflicts of personal interests and loyalties may exist
- role reversal or significant change in the relationship between the vulnerable adult and carer
- history of abuse within the family
- significant levels of stress on the carer
- isolation of the carer, due to the demands of caring, leading to a lack of practical and emotional support
- lack of understanding about the vulnerable adults condition, resulting in inappropriate care
- dependency on the vulnerable adult
- difficult or challenging behaviour by the vulnerable adult which the carer finds intolerable or stressful
- history of the carer being abused or being a perpetrator
- the carer feels exploited, resentful, angry or guilty
- financial difficulties
- illness or disability of the carer
- significant and long term stress of the carer

Discriminatory abuse: Discriminatory abuse exists when values, beliefs or culture result in a misuse of power that denies mainstream opportunities to some groups or individuals. It is the exploitation of a person's vulnerability, resulting in repeated or pervasive treatment of an individual, which excludes them from opportunities in society, for example, education, health, justice, civic status and protection. It includes discrimination on the basis of race, gender, age, sexuality, disability or religion.

Potential indicators:

- lack of respect shown to an individual
- signs of a sub-standard service offered to an individual
- repeated exclusion from rights afforded to citizens such as health, education, employment, criminal justice and civic status

Potential indicators:

- any injury not fully explained by the history given
- injuries inconsistent with the lifestyle of the vulnerable adult
- bruises and/or welts on face, lips, mouth, torso, arms, back, buttocks, thighs

- burns, especially on the soles, palms or back; immersion in hot water, friction burns, rope or electrical appliance burns
- multiply fractures
- lacerations or abrasions to mouth, lips, gums, eyes, external genitalia
- marks on body, including slap marks, finger marks
- injuries at different stages of healing
- medication misuse

Sexual abuse: Direct or indirect involvement in sexual activity without consent. Consent to a particular activity may not be given because:

- a person has capacity but does not want to give consent
- a person lacks capacity and is therefore unable to give consent

- 49* torn, stained or bloody underclothing
- 50* bruises, bleeding, pain or itching in genital area
- 51* sexually transmitted diseases, urinary tract or vaginal infection, love bites
- 52* bruising to thighs or upper arms

Psychological abuse: The use of threats, humiliation, bullying, swearing and other verbal conduct, or any other form of mental cruelty, that results in mental or physical distress. It includes the denial of basic human and civil rights, such as choice, self-expression, privacy and dignity.

Potential indicators:

- 53* change in appetite
- 54* low self-esteem, deference, passivity, and resignation
- 55* unexplained fear, defensiveness, ambivalence

- clothing in poor condition, e.g. unclean, wet, ragged
- inadequate physical environment
- inadequate diet
- untreated injuries or medical problems
- inconsistent or reluctant contact with health or social care agencies
- failure to engage in social interaction
- malnutrition when not living alone
- inadequate heating
- failure to give prescribed medication

Institutional Abuse: When rules and regimes of the home are seen as more important than the individual needs of the people who live in the home:

- poor standards
- inflexible regimes
- lack of personal choice for food, bed and meal times, etc.
